The Entrepreneur Journey (TEJ) was founded by No More Empty Pots in 2020 to provide support of entrepreneurs starting and growing businesses by expanding services to provide them with coaching, mentorship, networking and helpful entrepreneurship support, including ongoing everything workshops called "Three Stories Food Us" led by Ella Dubois. In June, the team hosted Coffee and Connection at the Café Café, and is going to the 2022 Midwest Small Business Summit at The Westbank and partnered with Midwest Public Policy for a networking breakfast Join us for Breakfast

Entrepreneur Highlight: Meet House of Bah!
Jared O'Neil Bah-Thorne is the founder and owner of House of Bah, a modern African cuisine catering company in Omaha. House of Bah (@houseofbah) belongs to a network of over 25 local businesses owned by No More Empty Pots. House of Bah recently participated in a three-day pop-up event offered by TEJ at Midwest Community to cater lunch. The event provided Jared's business an educating push to receive about future African food and creating inclusiveness in the Omaha hospitality marketplace. Jared networked with and served new customers, many of whom had never heard of House of Bah before. Thanks to your support of No More Empty Pots, entrepreneurs like Jared are provided the opportunities and resources to successfully operate a business that connects their greatest passions to their career.
