FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

CUPS CAFÉ AT LITTLE ITALY TO BECOME EXCLUSIVELY AN EVENT SPACE

Omaha, NE –August 12, 2019— Earlier this year, No More Empty Pots re-opened Cups Café at Little Italy with a fresh look and updated menu. Our goal was to continue to support the mission of creating sustainable food-secure neighborhoods. During this time, we discovered the community has a specific need for a small event space with catering options and we want to focus on that. We are excited to announce that Cups Café at Little Italy will now be an event only space, to book either the Co2 Community Room or the Cafe contact **reservations@nmepomaha.org**.

“We are thrilled to be able to offer this community resource for small group meetings and events. We are grateful to each person and organization that has supported the growth and transition of Cups Cafe at Little Italy. We want to make sure that we are leveraging resources to fill the greatest need. At this time, we are making those changes at the Little Italy location to be of greater service with focused intentional community engagement events like Reading Time every third Thursday at 9am.”
- Nancy Williams, CEO/Founder, No More Empty Pots.

Our second location, Cups Café at Florence, located at 8501 North 30th Street, Omaha, NE 68112 is now open! In this unique space, you will have the privilege to be served by Culinary Workforce Training Program students who take part in the production of the menu and front of house service. The menu also features local, seasonal food and beverage as well as product from food entrepreneurs renting the Commercial Kitchens at the No More Empty Pots Food Hub. Cups Café at Florence provides customer service and barista training areas and a place for entrepreneurs to test products before launching to a larger market.
